

Centering Our Stories

A Community Building Space for BIPOC Staff

Through storytelling, we will co-create a space where BIPOC staff can connect and strengthen their relationships with a restorative justice practice framework centered on our collective voices, expertise, and wisdom.

We invite staff who are members of our staff-registered organizations who have co-sponsored this series; BCH Black Caucus, Black Caucus at UCSF, Asian Pacific American Systemwide Alliance, United Filipinx Association, and the Chicana Latinx Campus Association.

We will have facilitators holding space in self-selected breakout rooms for staff-registered organizations.

This series is a partnership between the CARE Program, Restorative Justice Practices, and the Multicultural Resource Center.

This space is open to all UCSF staff.

Sessions will be hosted virtually, 12-1pm starting July 2023 and held bi-monthly until December 2023. Get more information and register for sessions <https://careadvocate.ucsf.edu/events>.

Sessions

Tuesday, July 18th

- Topic: Daily Affirmation Practice: A tool for the workplace

Tuesday, October 17th

- Topic: How do you practice self-care: sharing what works for you?

Tuesday, August 15th

- Topic: Building Community and Support Systems

Tuesday, December 5th

- Topic: What does connection mean to you – Music, Food, Traditions

To request a reasonable accommodation, please get in touch with Kendra Hypolite (kendra.hypolite@ucsf.edu) or Juri Sanchez (juri.sanchez@ucsf.edu)

Juri Sanchez she, her, ella
Associate Director, MSW

UCSF Restorative Justice Practices

Kendra Hypolite she, her
Co-Director, MSW, ASW

UCSF Campus Advocacy,
Resources and Education

Melisa Bautista she, her
Assistant Director, MEEd

UCSF Multicultural
Resource Center